

FilmFinds Submission Form

FilmFinds is seeking feature length narrative films that audiences deserve to see but existing distribution systems have passed over. Our goal is to bring these films to television viewers through FilmFinds; a showcase of overlooked films hosted by Todd Hansen, programmer of the Central Standard Film Festival and formerly with the Los Angeles Independent Film Festival. We invite you to submit your film if it meets the following criteria:

- FilmFinds is a primetime broadcast television series on KSTC-TV, Channel 45 in the greater Minneapolis/St.Paul region. All films must be suitable for primetime broadcast with regard to content. Work with gratuitous sex and violence will not be considered. Films may be edited for length, language, and nudity in order to meet broadcast standards.
- Films must be cleared for television broadcast with regard to rights (i.e. music, visuals, union and guild requirements).
- FilmFinds will not be responsible for any royalties or deferred payments required as the result of broadcast distribution.
- Films must have been screened in at least two juried and/or curated film festivals.
- Works that have received a network television broadcast are not eligible. The work may have been distributed on cable television (i.e. IFC or The Sundance Channel) but any exclusive cable window must expire before broadcast on FilmFinds.
- Films will be paid a license fee for two plays in one year on KSTC-TV. Additional fees will be paid in the event the series is syndicated. The license is non-exclusive.
